

Alpha Plastics

When Los Angeles based Capstone Turbine opened its sales and service facility in Brooklyn, the adjacent Alpha Plastics which manufactures PET and HDPE packaging containers – was the first to benefit.

Mike DeFazio, Alpha Plastics VP of Operations, told KeySpan Energy Delivery, "The folks at Capstone were fantastic and their response time was excellent...we're generating about 40% of our electricity, and our energy cost savings are already in the 30-35% range. There's the added benefit of avoiding power interruptions, which can be costly to a manufacturing operation."
